

HARIS

Logistics & Customs Clearance

Company Profile

Executive Message

Logistics does not fail because of “port conditions.” It fails because of small execution gaps: weak documentation, wrong classification, compliance mismatches, unclear responsibility, and late corrective action.

Haris is built to remove ambiguity from import and export operations. We run the clearance cycle with structured execution, strict compliance control, and cost-optimized inland movement. The objective is operational: predictable timelines, reduced delays, fewer compliance risks, and clear accountability at every step.

Haris exists to protect client supply chains, not to “process papers.”

Who We Are

About Haris

Haris is a Saudi logistics and customs clearance company specialized in sea, land, and air shipments. We provide structured, compliant, and cost-efficient solutions for importers, contractors, agricultural suppliers, industrial companies, and commercial businesses across the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

We manage the full clearance cycle from document verification and HS code classification to customs submission, inspection coordination, and final release. Our approach is systematic and process-driven, reducing delays, minimizing compliance risks, and ensuring operational continuity for our clients.

With 10 years of market experience, Haris operates with precision, speed, and full regulatory awareness, particularly in Saber platform registration, product conformity certification, SASO requirements, and Saudi customs regulations. We understand the technical and procedural details that often cause shipment delays, and we address them proactively before they become operational obstacles.

Our logistics capabilities extend beyond clearance. We coordinate inland transportation, shipment tracking, and supplier communication to ensure that goods move efficiently from port of entry to final destination. By integrating clearance expertise with logistical execution, we offer clients a reliable, end-to-end operational solution.

Haris is built on discipline, regulatory accuracy, and cost optimization. We focus on measurable outcomes: faster clearance cycles, reduced inland transport expenses, and predictable operational timelines. Our objective is not only to clear shipments, but to protect our clients' supply chains and support their long-term growth within the Saudi market.

What We Solve ?

In the Saudi logistics and customs environment, most shipment delays are not caused by the port or the mode of transport. They are the result of documentation gaps, incorrect classification, unclear compliance pathways, or weak operational coordination.

Importers and commercial businesses across the Kingdom commonly face the following challenges:

- Incomplete or inconsistent shipment documentation
- Incorrect HS code classification and the regulatory impact that follows
- Unclear or incomplete compliance path through Saber, Certificates of Conformity, or SASO requirements
- Lack of preparation before shipment arrival
- Delays during inspection due to weak coordination
- Uncontrolled inland transportation costs caused by poor planning

At Haris, we do not react to these issues after they occur. We manage the entire process through a structured, controlled operational workflow from the beginning until final delivery.

Our execution model includes:

- Early and comprehensive document review with full compliance verification
- Accurate HS code classification and regulatory requirement mapping
- Proactive pre-clearance preparation to reduce idle time at arrival
- Professional inspection coordination and rapid closure of remarks
- Scheduled inland transportation with route optimization to control cost
- A single accountable owner assigned to each shipment file

Through this disciplined approach, we deliver measurable operational outcomes: shorter clearance cycles, reduced compliance risk, optimized inland transportation expenses, and predictable timelines that protect our clients' supply chains within the Saudi market.
